Lisa is the Deputy Regional Counsel in the Office of Regional Counsel of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Seattle WA. As Deputy, she assists the Regional Counsel in the oversight of legal counseling and enforcement matters under the federal environmental statutes, regulations and programs administered by Region 10, as well as general law matters. She is also responsible for the operations and management aspects of ORC. She has worked for EPA in the Seattle and San Francisco regional offices for over twenty years. Prior to serving as EPA's Deputy Regional Counsel, Lisa worked as a staff attorney in ORC, primarily on Superfund matters but also Indian and general law matters. Lisa began her law career at a private law firm in San Francisco. She received her undergraduate degree from the University of California, Davis in 1986, and her law degree from Harvard Law School in 1991.
