

Andrew R. Stewart, Acting Director
Special Litigation and Projects Division
Office of Civil Enforcement/Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance
U.S. EPA

Biography

Andrew R. Stewart is Acting Director of the Special Litigation and Projects Division, within the Office of Civil Enforcement at the United States Environmental Protection Agency in Washington, D.C. In that capacity, Mr. Stewart manages a range of enforcement matters, including multimedia civil enforcement actions, as well as implementation of the EPA's policy, "Incentives for Self-Policing: Discovery, Disclosure, Correction and Prevention of Violations," known as the "Audit Policy."

Prior to joining the Special Litigation and Projects Division, Mr. Stewart worked as a senior attorney in the Water Enforcement Division within the Office of Civil Enforcement. Mr. Stewart worked as an associate in the Environment, Land & Resources Department at Latham & Watkins in Washington, D.C. before joining EPA.

He is a graduate of Duke University and the University of Virginia School of Law. After graduating from the University of Virginia School of Law, Mr. Stewart served as a law clerk for a federal district court judge in the District of Maryland.